GLEANED BY SCRIBES

Four new members were elected at Tuesday night's meeting of Doylestown Post, No. 175, V. F. W., and plans were completed to participate in the annual Memorial Day ceremonies in Doylestown.

The four new members elected include: Capt. George C. Butler, a former member of the Vets, who was welcomed back to membership in the Doylestown post; Harry S. Hobensack, post commander of the American Legion; Chief Petty Officer R. H. Tompkey, of Norfolk, Va., now stationed at the Aviation Base at Hershman; and Seaman Charles Stiles, of Edison, who is home on a furlough.

Miss Rita H. Smith, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Smith, Sellersville, was awarded her bachelor of arts degree in absentia during the combined commencement exercises of Middlebury College and the Women's College of Middlebury.

Miss Smith, the only woman among nine to graduate a semester ahead of her class last December, has recently joined the WAAC and is stationed at the Third Training Center at Fort Oglethorpe, Ga.

Just exactly 45 years and one day after her dad enlisted for the first time in the Massachusetts Volunteer Militia and was dispatched to Cuba, Miss Mary Elizabeth Butler, 22, daughter of Captain and Mrs. George C. Butler, Doylestown, left Tuesday for training in the Marine Corps Women's Reserve.

The annual meeting of the Village Improvement Association of Doylestown was held in the Salem Reformed Church, Doylestown, Tuesday afternoon, when the president, Miss Helen L. Ryan, gave a report of her club activities during the past year, and explained that the absence of former pleasant social features of the annual program was due to war conditions.

The annual report of the treasurer, Miss Gertrude Shearer, stated that May 1, 1942, there was a balance of $96.63 and April 30, 1943, Twining, reported the total receipts the balance was $34.34. The hospital treasurer, Mrs. F. Cyrus for the year were $50,582.68, and the expenses $48,706.43. The total of the hospital canvass for 1942 were $6,953.19.

A well attended meeting of the Unami 4-H Club of Plumsteadville was held Monday evening, when L. C. Madison, State College livestock specialist, gave an illustrated lecture on pig raising.

Mr. Madison discussed methods of feeding, general care and preparation for the round-up and showed a number of pictures on work done by various clubs throughout the State. He stated that pasture is especially important this year as is also the use of a self-feeder and a watering device, suggesting that a barrel with a valve cup can be successfully used.

Fifteen members of the Unami club have taken the pig club project and are raising a total of 53 pigs. The members include: Norman and Mabel Sames, Richard and George Bishop, Herbert Lear, Ray, Adeline and Roy Shull, Mildred Fly, Lawrence Pitman, Clyde and "Buddy" Myers, Clifford Berry, Charles and Richard Kriebel.

ENTER DAMAGE SUIT AGAINST A BRISTOL MAN

CRASH IN BENSALEM

Claim Truck Was Operated
In A Negligent Manner

DOYLESTOWN, May 7—A suit for damage totalling $862.49 against Guisepppe Farruggio, trading as the Bristol and Philadelphia Auto Express, Mansion street, Bristol, has been filed in the Court of Common Pleas here.

The plaintiffs, Joseph T. Orlieb, William F. Orlieb, and Albert Orlieb, trading as Henry F. Orlieb, at 824 North American street, Philadelphia, charge that a tractor and trailer operated by the defendant's employee, Edward T. Taylor, on the Bristol Pike in Bensalem Township near the Red Lion Hotel, was so negligently operated as to sway and turn over on its left side, hitting a truck owned by the plaintiffs and being operated by their employee, which had come to a stop to allow the tractor and trailer to pass. They further charge that the tractor and trailer were being operated at a high rate of speed which caused it to get out of the driver's control.

The truck owned by the plaintiffs is claimed to have been badly damaged.

Appraisal Forum Well Executed for Realtors

DOYLESTOWN, May 7—An appraisal forum was capably executed by the appraisal committee, and well received by members, when Bucks County Real Estate Board met last evening in the Fountain House, here.

The appraisal committee in session was headed by William A. Rossiter, Jr., of Langhorne, he being assisted by Charles H. Hoyer, J. Carroll Molloy, Sr., and Charles J. Happ.

Previously the committee had appraised a local property by the three approaches generally used: the reproduction approach, by the method of comparison and through capitalization of income. The trio of approaches were explained in detail, and final appraisal secured.

President Judge Hiram H. Keller and Judge Calvin S. Boyer of the Bucks County courts were guests at the dinner meeting.

The board members also showed keen interest in several bills now pending at Harrisburg. Report on such was given by President of the Real Estate Board, Richard W. Fechtenberg, Eddington, and A. Paul Townsend, Langhorne, the latter chairman of the legislative committee.

The June meeting will be known as past presidents' night; and next fall the board plans to hold a mock trial of a condemnation proceeding. A parcel of land will be "condemned" for special purposes, and appraisals made.

LATEST NEWS BULLETINS

Troops Hack Their Way Toward Tunis

Allied Headquarters in North Africa—British and American troops hacked their way to a point within 12 miles of Tunis today and mowed down stiff enemy resistance on the road to Ferryville and Bizerte in the north.

The relentless Allied onslaught gave the Axis no respite and gained momentum by the hour. Battlefield dispatches disclosed that forces of Great Britain's hardened First Army and American troops of the Second Army Corps supporting it had adopted as their battle cry:

"Tunis and Bizerte next stop."

Unable to cope with the terrific artillery and aerial assaults unleashed by the Allies, the Axis line reeled, staggered and fell back. By dawn today, United States Second Army Corps troops under Lieut. Gen. George S. Patton, Jr., had driven the Germans back along the south shores of Lake Achkel to within four and one-half miles of Ferryville.

At the same time, this important garrison defending Bizerte was threatened by other American troops streaking across the Tunisian plains from Mateur.

Latest dispatches placed the British at the strategic road junction of St. Cyppien, only 12 miles from Tunis.

Bomb Harbor of Reggio Di Calabria

Cairo—Tremendous aerial blows have been unleashed by American and British heavy bombers against the harbor of Reggio Di Calabria at the toe of the Italian boot, Middle East headquarters announced today. The harbor was heavily blasted by the RAF on Wednesday night, a communique said.

'GAS AND BOMB ATTACK' STAGED HERE LAST NIGHT

Men in Masks and Helmets
Plunge Into Smoke, Heat
To Identify "Gas"

SHOW MUCH INTEREST

A simulated gas and bomb attack was staged here last night and had just been completed when the Yellow signal was received for the air raid test.

Similar simulated attacks were also staged at Newportville and in Bensalem Township, while a school in gas instruction was held in Croydon.

In the simulated gas and bomb attack here, three gas officers entered the affected area, identified the gas, located 12 casualties, had them removed to a cleansing station and then to hospitals.

The demonstration was held on Pond street, just below Market street. The entire area was patrolled by 30 emergency police and 25 air raid wardens. All traffic was routed around the area.

Automobile oil and straw was ignited to represent the gas and then John E. Healey, chief gas officer, and two assistants, Cornelius Bustraan and Ramo E. K. Kline, entered the affected area, identified the gas as mustard gas.

The casualties were removed in three ambulances to Bristol Fire Station No. 1, Market and Wood streets, where they were cleansed and then taken to the Wagner and Harriman hospitals.

Keen interest was manifested by spectators who could get sufficiently close to watch the men as they went about their duties.

Gas masks, boots and coats were worn, and also white helmets. The three men went right into the thickest of the smoke and heat.

Previous to the "attack", air-raid wardens of the first sector received instructions to visit every house in the area. Occupants of the houses were told not to leave until the "attack" was over, and if they did they would be taken to hospitals as "casualties."

When the "attack" started a report was sent to control center informing that a bomb had been dropped on Pond street. Wardens went into service and functioned until the arrival of emergency police.

After the entire affair had been completed, Dr. J. Fred Wagner visited the casualty station in Bristol Fire Station No. 1 and gave a brief talk on the handling of casualties.

ing Are Guttled To the Extent of $1,000

FIREMEN WORK WELL

Fire yesterday afternoon gutted the two attics above a double frame dwelling on the Steinbilber Road, Flushing. The properties are owned by the John J. Steinbilber Estate. The loss is estimated at $1,000 and is partly covered by insurance.

Sparks from a burning woods across a creek and about 75 feet from the buildings is believed to have started the flames. The sparks ignited the roof and the flames quickly spread into the attics.

One of the properties is occupied during the week-ends by John Draban, who resides during the week in Philadelphia. The other one is at present unoccupied.

The Bristol firemen and firemen from Newport, Newportville and Hultmeville responded.

Water was pumped from a nearby creek and the flames were quenched before they spread to other portions of the houses.

FIRE CALL RECEIVED DURING AIR-RAID TEST

Railroad Ties Along Trenton Ave. Burst Into Flames
Just Before Red Signal

TWP. HAS VIOLATION

With two statewide drills within 12 hours yesterday, the State Defense Council served notice today that it was stepping up air raid defenses in preparation against the possibility of "a real raid."

The shrill sound of the sirens caught Pennsylvanians completely unaware yesterday morning in a daylight test and again last night. The daytime alert lasted for a record 38 minutes, from 10.21 to 10.59 a. m., while the blackout test was on for 49 minutes, from 8.46 to 9.29 p. m.

"We want the people to be ready at all times," Dr. Ralph C. Hutchison, executive director of the State Defense Council, announced following the first of the two tests. "When the air raid sirens sound in Pennsylvania it may be a real raid. Both Japan and Italy have been making formal threats to raid the United States and we must be more than ever on the alert."

Hutchison also revealed that all future tests will be held without any notice to the public which will therefore be unable to tell whether it is a practice alert or the real thing. "This is in the interest of realism and it also creates a great deal more interest on the part of the citizen's defense corps," Hutchison explained.

The test last night started at 8.24 when the Yellow was received here and lasted until the sounding of the All-Clear at 9.28. The first Blue came through at 8.46 followed by the Red at nine o'clock, the second Blue at 9.14.

Just before the Red signal was received a call was received by Fire Chief Clifford Hagerman at the Bristol Control Center that a pile of railroad ties was burning on Trenton avenue, between Cleveland and Hayes streets.

Chief Hagerman dispatched a crew of men under Assistant Chief, Joseph Buck and one piece of apparatus to the scene. Chief Hagerman then notified the County Control Center at Doylestown and also informed them when the apparatus had returned to the fire station. This is done so that in case of a serious conflagration the whereabouts of fire apparatus in the County will be known.

Numerous complaints were received at the Control Center about fires burning on the Borough dump. This is caused, it was stated on the floor of Borough Council, several weeks ago, by people setting fire to rubbish after the man employed by the borough has gone off duty.

All services were represented at the control center except the Medical, Red Cross and Demolition.

One violation was reported from the Croydon area of Bristol Township.

WHALE STEAKS

It is an interesting fact that whaling ships are now clearing California ports to bag the mammoth of the sea for their flesh, as well as for their oil, bone and other derivatives. If the whalers have luck, whale steak may be a substantial contribution to the American dinner table.

Whale meat on American dinner tables will not be as much of an innovation as horse meat. During the last war it was shipped by the carload to all parts of the United States and it was featured on many New York restaurant menus.

Many varieties of whale abound off the California coast—the famous California gray whale, sperm whale, finback, humpback, sulphur-bottom.

Because whales are mammals instead of fish, the juiciest, tenderest meat comes from young whales, just as the tenderest beef comes from young steers. Imagine a thick tenderloin, about twenty-five feet through and weighing fifteen tons. That is a mental picture of a whale steak just as it is stripped from the carcass. One prime whale can make a big dent in any local meat shortage because it is the equivalent of approximately 125 head of cattle.

Properly prepared, whale steaks are reported to be delicious. During the last war a Pacific Coast whaling station owned by a Canadian company developed a canned product, coming the whale. It was indistinguishable from canned corn beef, according to John Grigg, who was affiliated with the enterprise and is now president of the California whaling company which has ambitions plans to help end the meat shortage in this war.

CUSTOM-BUILT WEAPONS

When the United States started to prepare for war, the need of haste was urgent and standardized weapons were turned out by mass production methods. Now the specialized phase has been reached. Weapons are being custom-built for the specific tasks that will confront them under the varying conditions of the many war fronts.

Tanks are an example. Some are being "winterized" for service in Russia, while others are "desertized" for the African front. This does not preclude mass production methods. Tanks roll off production lines in several factories according to standardized specifications. Then they are sent to a plant which specializes in alterations. These are called tank modification centers. There are such centers for warplanes, too.

Biggest single job in a tank modification center is radio installation. America, Britain and Russia do not use the same models. Other items which are specialized are periscopes, guns ammunition boxes and placement of armor. Some fighters like them one way and some another.

U. S. industry is doing its utmost to meet these varying needs without sacrificing that quality which is making America's weapons the best in the world.

Faith Clarke's SHOPPING TIPS FOR BUDGETEERS

SIT OUTSIDE more, have permanent outdoor furniture, the kind which stands up in all kinds of weather. It is healthful to live outdoors as much as possible. Don't, however, make the mistake of dragging chairs in and out of the house. Look over the graceful yet sturdy rustic type press furniture in the Snellburg Store. It's so attractive for porch or grounds and yet so inexpensive—only $3.95 for chairs and $5.95 for pretty settees. Cushion them if you like. Shop soon. Displayed in 3rd fl. Housewares Dept. and 4th fl. Outdoor Furniture Dept.

DECORATOR WASTE BASKETS are highly valued when furnishing any room. So often, however, really artistic ones are high priced. Never before have I seen the right parchment-like type, with old English and old American print reproductions, at a price within my own budget. So I'm simply daft about such baskets that are to be had at only $1 to $1.39 at the handy new 1st fl. Gift Counter (near the Notions) in the Snellburg Store. I yet can't believe that the prices are anything but a mistake. There are ovals and ovals and oblongs and even those terribly swanky 18-in.-high cylindrical ones. Also, some charming hand-painted florals for bedrooms are priced at $1.19. But see these parchments! Every room should have its own basket. Nice for children's wedding gifts.

SOME CLOSETS! Pay a little, pay more. Read on! For $29.50 (it's worth it!) you can have an extra cedar closet in the house without one bit of carpenter work. Buy one of the Snellburg "Cedar Closets." They measure 67 ins. by 34 ins. and are generously deep. They hold a lot and they're good looking. See also the simply grand "Odora" wardrobe for a mere $5.98, size 69 ins. by 28 ins. by 21 ins., with two full-length hinged doors. It's called Shelfmaster because it has a top shelf and two folding bottom shelves. Strongly framed. Nice buys. Housewares Dept., 3rd fl.

TURN 'EM OVER if you like, these new "Revertex" fibre rugs for summer, or for fall, winter, or for all seasons, in bedrooms and sunrooms. Bristol Township School Directors Seek Federal Aid either securing federal aid at once, or increasing considerably the tax millage.

For the 1942-43 fiscal school year the board had to borrow $15,000 to cover general expenses.

To care for the additional pupils Bristol Township schools are now on part-time sessions, and requests have been received recently from the Federal Works Agency for double sessions to be instituted in the township, but this is not considered feasible by the school authorities.

tending were: William D. Knight, Clarence H. Young, E. Leslie Helwig, Mrs. Morris Dayhoff, and James H. Robinson.

Additional attempts are being made to obtain federal aid to relieve the conditions in the school district. Andrew Jackson, supervising principal of the township schools, and William D. Knight, a member of the board, visited New York recently, and consulted federal authorities. Next week Clarence H. Young, secretary of the board, and Mr. Jackson will confer with authorities in Washington, D. C., in an attempt to get immediate action as the situation is becoming acute.

If the conference fails of results a substantial increase in millage and per capita taxes will be made as there is no alternative.

In the 1941-42 school year costs of instruction totalled $61,541.50; and the estimated expenditures for instruction for 1942-43 is given at $70,485. The estimated budget for 1943-44 is $90,230.

Items on the budget exclusive of those listed under instructional expenses show very little increase. Provisions for the paying off of the temporary loan of $15,000 and interest will have to be carried in the 1942-43 budget.

Carl Vetter, vice president of the board, was the presiding officer.

Members of the faculty of the township schools last evening presented a petition asking for a bonus of $100 per teacher, stating that "due to the rising cost of living and the failure of the state legislature to pass the bill to aid teachers at this time" the request was being made. The board, however, pointed out during discussion of this matter, that final action has not yet been taken by the legislature in this matter. Therefore no action was taken by the directors.

O God of love and grace, be with those unfortunate people who by virtue of the war, have been caused to suffer untold hardships; those who have seen their homes destroyed; those who have seen their churches destroyed; those who have been forced to leave their native communities and even their own countries; and after long journeys on foot, have sought refuge in other places. Grant that in their wanderings their faith may not be lost, and that their courage may not be abated. Bless those who minister unto them, Grant that their efforts may be blessed with thy spirit, and that the work of rehabilitation might prosper. Through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

SPORTSMEN'S

BRIEFS

By JOE ELBERSON

The Bossler brothers, Harry, Bill and Francis, went fishing for perch and catfish the other evening in the Nesaminy Creek at Gerhart's. Twelve-year-old Paul Gerhart joined them and volunteered to show the boys where the fish were biting. When the fellows quit fishing Paul had eight perch and catfish. Harry, Bill and Francis just didn't seem to get any good bites!

Good news for local trapshooters... the Langhorne Rod & Gun Club has a blue rock shoot scheduled for Sunday, at the club traps in Langhorne. Looks like an opportunity for you clay bird shooters to sharpen up on your shooting, provided sufficient ammunition is available.

The State Game Commission recently announced that it has agreed to purchase 16,819 additional acres of land for game refuges and public hunting grounds. The new purchase will bring to more than 755,000 the number of acres of game lands purchased since the program was begun some 23 years ago.

What other sportsmen's groups are doing: At a recent meeting of the New Hope Fish, Game and Forestry Protective Association this organization decided to attempt to raise 900 pheasants this year. This is certainly a praiseworthy ambition and no doubt the club will be successful in its program. It should give the clubs in the lower end of the County something to think about when they want to know what to do about increasing game in this area.

Two Bristol fishermen, Frank Murphy and Charlie Elliott, had a successful day recently at Barnegat when they caught 37 winter flounders. The two, who fished from a rowboat, used worms for bait. And last Sunday Elliott and a fellow angler caught 15 calicos, sunnies, and roach at the Penn Manor Club.

The State Federation of Sportsmen's Clubs was on the pan Monday evening in Doylestown when Charlie Rowe, president of the Bucks County Federation of Sportsmen's Clubs, and Bucks county delegate to the State Federation meeting, suggested that the County Federation drop out of the mother organization. He declared that the State Federation seemed to have outlived its usefulness. He didn't, however, get very specific on the subject. Perhaps, before the County Federation takes any action on the matter some very serious thought should be given the subject.

House Bill No. 286 in the current session of the General Assembly at Harrisburg has now become Act No. 14 following the Governor's approval. It provides for the taking of perch through the ice.

Senate Bill No. 130 also recently received the Governor's approval and is now Act No. 33. It prohibits the sale of, or offering for sale of, hail-fish or fish-bait from the waters of the Commonwealth when not artificially propagated and sold pursuant to an artificial propagation license granted by the Board of Fish Commissioners.

One of the most important measures introduced, Senate Bill No. 78, which would increase the cost of fishing licenses from $1.50 to $2.00, seems doomed in the present session. The purpose of the increase was to use each additional fifty cents for the purchase of fishing rights and lands for public fishing. At last report the bill had passed the Senate and is now in the House Committee. The bill has been pushed around and certain changes made from the original draft. Too bad... it looks as if Mr. Average Fisherman will have to wait another two years unless something is done very soon with the bill. And in the meantime the better fishing waters and rights will no doubt continue to be acquired by private organizations.

The regular monthly meeting of the Bristol Fish & Game Protective Association is scheduled for Tuesday evening at eight o'clock, in the Odd Fellows' Hall, Walnut and Radcliffe Streets. An open invitation has been extended by the Association for all interested sportsmen to attend.
